

OBSERVATORY CELEBRATES 10 YEARS

Speakers, Demonstrations, and Events on Tap

Western Nevada College's Jack C. Davis Observatory is celebrating its 10th anniversary now through May. A variety of events, including a gallery exhibit of astro photography, and free lectures by researchers studying Mars and Saturn are planned.

Read More.

ASWN RECOGNIZES STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Outstanding Western Nevada College students and faculty honored during the 13th annual Appreciation and Awards Banquet at the Governor's Mansion in Carson City.

Awards were presented to students for academic excellence, tutoring, peer mentorship, athletics, those serving in the Latino cohort and in student government, as well as to faculty for outstanding teaching and service during the 2012-13 academic year.

Read More.

Student Life

Student Earns Regents Award

PTK Inducts New Members

Photo Gallery: Student and Campus Activities

Commencement News

Carson City and Fallon Commencements

Multi-Faith Baccalaureate Service

Ramsdells to Receive Honorary Degrees

Arts and Culture

Oliver! Takes the Stage May 10-19

'Always Lost' Exhibit: In the News

Art students use pastels and water to add a touch of color along the biking path located west of the Aspen Building.

Campus News

Teachers Explore Space at WNC Observatory

Trist Earns Regents Advising Award

Douglas Campus Solar Array Complete

2013-14 Academic Program Guide Online

Manufacturers Endorse WNC

Middle Schoolers Participate in Gear Up Tour

Athletics

Softball Player Commits to D-II University

Students Name Wildcats Mascot